

COOK WITH BREE · PRINTABLE MEAL PLAN

Romantic Ugandan Dinner

A date-night printable plan for two · Cook with Bree

Dinner for 2 · $7

Welcome

Inspired by my parents — who loved each other so openly that Valentine's Day felt like a holiday in our house. This is a warm Ugandan-inspired dinner for two: flavorful, unhurried, and meant to be shared.

Print this plan, stick it on the fridge, and shop once. Recipes live on the Cook with Bree website — use the links at the end when you need full instructions.

Menu

Together

Chapati (make side by side)

Start together — it's part of the date

Main

English Peas Stew (smaller pot)

Simmer while chapati rests/cooks

Side

Coconut Rice (rice cooker)

Press start before you begin chapati

Sweet

Warm banana bread slices with butter

Bake earlier or use leftovers

Cooking Timeline

Afternoon

Bake banana bread if you don't have any. Put flowers or a candle on the table.

T-60 min

Start coconut rice in the rice cooker.

T-50 min

Sauté onion for pea stew; build the tomato gravy.

T-40 min

Add peas and simmer. Mix chapati dough; let rest 20–30 minutes.

T-20 min

Roll and cook chapatis together. Keep them warm in foil.

T-5 min

Fluff rice. Taste stew. Plate family-style.

Serve

Sit down. Phones away. Eat with your hands if you want — that's home.

Grocery List

Produce

- 1 onion

- Garlic
- 2 tomatoes
- Fresh herbs
- Ripe bananas (optional baking)

Pantry

- Frozen English peas (2–3 cups)
- Coconut milk (1 can)
- Rice (1 cup dry is plenty for two)
- Flour, oil, salt for chapati
- Curry powder, cumin, paprika, tomato paste

Other

- Butter for banana bread / finishing
- Candle or small flowers

Prep Tips

- Shop the day before so the evening stays calm.
- Cook together — assign one person rice/stew and one person chapati.
- Keep the menu small. Romance is in the pace, not the course count.

Recipe Links on Cook with Bree

- English Peas Stew — </recipes/english-peas-stew>
- Coconut Rice — </recipes/coconut-rice>
- Chapati — </recipes/chapati>
- Grandma's Banana Bread — </recipes/grandmas-banana-bread>
- Story: My Parents' Love — </stories/my-parents-love>

Thank you

Thank you for supporting Cook with Bree. Print this plan whenever you need it — no subscription, no fuss.

Find more free recipes and stories on the website, and come say hello on YouTube and Instagram.

With love,

Bree